Premier Living in a Columbia Estates Community

Duck River Estates rests peacefully along the scenic Duck River. UMH Properties defines this as “Affordable Living, Modern Comfort.” The estates here are purpose-built to provide residents with ample space and convenient amenities. Emphasizing resident-first management, this community offers cleanliness, safety, and a welcoming, family-oriented neighborhood.

It’s recognized not only for its prime location but also the attentive management and quality care that define it. UMH Properties manages this community as part of its portfolio of over 135 manufactured home communities nationwide, all designed to ensure enduring value for residents and investment partners.

Turn-Key Ready Manufactured Homes – Your Ideal Choice

At Duck River Estates, you’ll find turn-key ready manufactured homes offering a blend of modern style and cost savings. These homes adhere to HUD standards, resulting in energy-efficient comfort reminiscent of traditional site-built homes for less. Whether you’re searching for a single mobile home or considering an investment in Columbia real estate, the options here are impressive.

A major advantage to choosing these manufactured homes is the hassle-free transition. Because the homes are turnkey ready, prospective buyers can move in without delay, avoiding the headaches of lengthy construction periods. Those in need of prompt, high-quality housing—like families and retirees—will appreciate this feature most.

Rent or Own – Flexible Living Options at Duck River Estates

The community offers several rental options, allowing flexibility whether you want to rent or buy. The available rentals in Duck River Estates offer more privacy and space compared to typical apartments in Columbia.
