How quickly can I sell my inherited property for cash?

Our purchasers can finalize in as little as 7 to 14 days, subject to your requirements and probate process. This speed surpasses traditional sales usually requiring months.

Must I fix repairs before selling my inherited home?

No fix-ups are needed. We purchase homes “as-is,” so you aren’t obligated to spend time or funds renovating the property.

Will selling to a cash buyer help me avoid probate delays?

Since probate rules vary, selling to a cash buyer familiar with probate properties can speed up the process and lower the holding period during probate.

Are there any fees or commissions when selling my inherited property for cash?

There are no fees. Selling to us comes with no commissions or secret fees. The cash offer you receive is the final amount at closing.

On what basis is the cash offer for my inherited house made?

Our cash proposals consider current market values, property condition, location, and comparable sales in Columbus. We endeavor to provide fair market values matching the property’s as-is condition.

Can I sell inherited land or merely houses?

We purchase both inherited land and houses. Whether it is property kind or size, we offer quick cash property offers to enable your sale.

What paperwork is necessary to sell an inherited property?

Usually, you’ll need proof of inheritance (such as will or letters of administration), property title, and identification. Our team supports you in the documentation requirements.
