The ERP Implementation Process: How Consultare Ensures Success

Effective ERP implementation is complex and requires disciplined methodology to avoid common pitfalls like scope creep, budget overruns, or delays. Consultare applies disciplined frameworks informed by advisory and industry best practices, consisting of:

1. Business Process Review and Advisory

Consultare's ERP consulting experts conduct a comprehensive analysis of existing processes related to sales, inventory, resource allocation, and planning. Through advisory discussions, they pinpoint inefficiencies and propose improved workflows that the ERP will enable—a vital step for successful solution adoption.

2. Solution Design and System Selection

Selecting the fit-for-purpose ERP solution is fundamental. Consultare guides clients planning for long term success through objective evaluation of Sage, Dynamics, SAP Business One, and others according to their objectives, IT setup, and growth needs.

3. Custom Configuration and Integration

Once a system is selected, Consultare designs custom configurations aligned with client workflows and integrates the ERP with existing cloud platforms and auxiliary software. This phase ensures data consistency, reduces manual work, and links core processes for smoother operation.

4. Data Migration and Onboarding

Data is the lifeblood of any ERP system. Consultare employs detailed migration protocols to securely transfer inventory, sales, and resource data from legacy platforms to the new system with minimal disruption. Client staff receive thorough training, making the onboarding process seamless.

5. Go-live and Post-Implementation Managed Services

During go-live, Consultare manages transitions and resolves concerns quickly. Managed services continue supporting, monitoring, and updating systems to ensure ongoing process improvements.
